ABOUT ME

I am an actuary and data analyst, graduated in Actuarial Science and currently studying Systems Analysis and Development. I have experience in actuarial auditing, where I was able to exercise my ability to analyze data and financial risk. Recently I worked in the tech field, where I could learn more about programming, clouding, databases, versioning. I seek to continue developing myself in the data/analytics field, helping stakeholders to make the best possible decisions with a strong financial base and with the best data handling practices.
